

The following questions refer to the high-pressure system above. The stations are at points A, B, C, D.

1. Which station is reporting the highest winds? _____
2. The isobar label "C" would have a reading of what value? _____
3. Which station would report a wind from the northwest? _____
4. Which station would probably report a rising barometer? _____
5. The station model below represents with station? _____

